An innovative approach to imparting high-quality education to the madrasa dropout and probable dropout students of School Grades 1st to 12th. Education on this concept is being conceived and delivered with a specific approach to target stakeholders by Shaheen Group of Institutions in Bidar-Karnataka. Dr. Abdul Qadeer started a pilot project 'Academic Intensive Care Unit (AICU)' aimed to bring the drop-outs and Madrasa students to the mainstream and has borne fruits. The project started in 2003 was aimed to help the school dropouts and Madrasa Students of age group 10-18 are made to appear in Class 10th, 12th examination along with NEET and other professional examinations. AICU has a composite curriculum from class 5th to 12th. A continuous and comprehensive evaluation method is employed in AICU. Students are tested at regular intervals right from the beginning of the course. The assessment is aimed at diagnosing the problem areas in the child's development and not merely his academic scores. In Bidar, it's a short hop from madrasas to science labs

September 02, 2017

Educational experiment by Shaheen Colleges is helping students leaving religious schools pursue medicine, engineering courses

Looking like a doctor in a Hindi movie, Abu Sofyan can offer both – Dawa and Dua (medicine and prayers) to his future patients. The second year MBBS student at Raichur Institute of Medical Sciences is a 'Hafiz', who can recite the Holy Koran by heart.

He spent over six years in madrasas in Karnataka and Tamil Nadu before getting into high school. The boy from Hebbal in Bengaluru, had never been to school before that, nor studied subjects like Science, Mathematics or languages other than Arabic and Urdu. But, the 'disciplined madrasa life' helped him get good grades in pre- university and a medical college seat. Ahmed Mehboobsaab, an engineering college student, also extols his early education. "I realise that the basic principles of engineering are about the wholesome study of nature that the Koran emphasises," he says. Coming from a poor family in Chikkabanavara, in north Bengaluru taluk, he spent nearly a decade in a madrasa.

"When I joined high school, I felt transplanted into a strange place. I had difficulty keeping up. But I managed to leave with good marks. I never imagined I would become an engineer," he says.

A Madrasa that promises both heaven and earth

September 13, 2018

The South Indian city of Bidar – the northernmost part of Karnataka, 145 km from Hyderabad – is barely known beyond the subcontinent. In recent years, it has built a great reputation among Muslims. It is drawing students from miles around, and the teaching pedagogy at its largest seminary (madrasa) and the amazing outcomes that it is delivering have baffled educationists. It is not just opening the gateway to modern careers but also strengthening the prospects of eternal salvation. Madrasas are an important feature of the Muslim community; they can be, and have been pivotal in engendering tolerance, mutual respect and integration. They are now slowly shaping as beacons of modern learning.

In a narrow alleyway, opposite the 15th-century edifice of Madrasa of Mahmud Gawan (1472) in Gole Khana area of Bidar, stands Shaheen School – the flagship institution of a vibrant educational revolution whose ripples are touching thousands of lives across the country.

Parents seeking a blend of temporal and spiritual education are being drawn to it. It offers a bridge course for madrasa pass-outs to join the mainstream education system. Founded on the theory of providing quality education to Urdu-speaking students in their mother tongue, Shaheen is an Urdu medium school that has turned more than 900 students into doctors in the last 15 years.

From Madrasa students to MBBS Doctors: The saga of an oasis of education in Karnataka's Bidar

December 28, 2017

Tu Shaheen Hai, Parwaz Hai Kaam Tera; Tere Samne Asman Aur Bhi Hain...

(You are an eagle, flight is your vocation; you have other skies stretching out before you.)

This poetic couplet by Iqbal appropriately fits for the Shaheen Group of Institutions, which has been shaping the future of hundreds of students from the economically weaker sections of the society. In a unique but successful experiment, the institution is preparing hafizs (those memorise the holy Qur'an) for competitive examinations of medical and engineering.

At least 40 hafizs have so far cracked the entrance examination of medical and engineering and are studying in different government colleges of the country. As many as 900 students from the institution had qualified to the medical courses in the last one decade.

When the Shaheen Group ventured into education field in 1989 at Bidar in Karnataka, it had only 17 students. Now, it has more than 12,000 students from across the country with a host of educational institutions – including nine schools, 16 pre-university colleges and a degree college with branches in Bangalore and Mysore.

It also runs seven 'Hifz-ul- Qur'an plus' coaching centers in Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Delhi and other states for bringing mainstream education to madrasa system students. The group is also planning to open residential schools in other parts of the country as well.

Madrasa to mainstream education: Bidar school churns out success stories for Urdu-speaking students

March 09, 2018

Founded on the theory of providing quality education to Urdu-speaking students in their mother tongue, Shaheen is an Urdu medium school that has turned more than 900 students into doctors in the last 15 years.

In a narrow alleyway, opposite the 15th-century edifice of Madrasa-e-Mahmud Gawan in Gole Khana area of Bidar stands its imposing replica known as Shaheen School.

Founded on the theory of providing quality education to Urdu-speaking students in their mother tongue, Shaheen is an Urdu medium school that has turned more than 900 students into doctors in the last 15 years. Students from the school have been consistently bagging government medical seats in the state since 2008.

In the academic year 2016-17, a staggering 201 students bagged medical seats in Bidar, of which seven students (five girls and two boys) had done their schooling in Urdu medium. Similarly, in the academic years 2014-15 and 2015-16, eleven students each from Urdu-medium grabbed MBBS seats. Of these, 17 were girls and five boys.

Urdu is not a language of choice for schooling even among the Urdu-speaking masses. As is evident from Shaheen's experience, most students from Urdu-medium schools are from underprivileged Muslim families.
